

van Halm & van Halm
fine oriental ceramics

Large Kraak Bowl
Blue And White

£2,200

REF: 2673

Depth: 5.8 cm (2.3")

Diameter: 27 cm (10.6")

Description

A large blue and white Kraak porcelain bowl decorated to the centre with a lotus plant surrounded by sprigs of flowering blossom, the well and border with panels of flowers. Birds and branches to the back.

Condition: very good. Firing crack of circa 1 cm from rim and a hairline of circa 1 cm extended from the firing crack, minute rim frits, otherwise fine: no chips or restorations.

Provenance: from a private UK collection.

For an almost identical example in the collection of the Princessehof Museum, Leeuwarden, see Kraak Porcelain by Maura Rinaldi, p 126.

Wanli period (1573-1619).